

European Economic Constitution: A German-Italian Dialogue for a Solidarity- Oriented Market

Bayreuth, 28. - 29. November 2019

Rechts- und Wirtschaftswissenschaftliche Fakultät Bayreuth

Room K3, Building RW I

PROGRAMM

28 November 2019

9:00 Opening

Jörg Gundel, Dean of the Faculty

9:15 Martin Schmidt-Kessel, European Economic Constitution: Results of Caserta for a Solidarity-oriented Common Market

9:45 Luca E. Perriello, The Case of the Italian Steel Plant Ilva: A Never-Ending Battle Between Environment, Health and Work

10:15 Discussion

10:45 Coffee break

11:15 Thoko Kaime, Energy transitions and energy landscapes in Africa: What role for international law?

11:45 Discussion

12:15 Lunch Break

14:00 Letizia Coppo, European and/or Italian Contract Law: Real and Apparent Divergences

14:30 Discussion

- 15:00 Marco Farina, Partial Voidness and Supplementation of the Contract
15:30 Discussion
16:00 Tea Break
16:30 Stefano Deplano, Effective Judicial Protection and ADR: The Italian Case
17:00 Discussion

29 November 2019

- 9:30 Bernd Kannowski, A History of Human Rights
10:00 Discussion
10:30 Coffee Break
11:00 Andrea M. Garofalo, Free Movement of Personal Data and European Economic Constitution: A Perspective
11:30 Discussion
12:00 Christina Möllnitz, Curtailing private power – the Facebook-case of Düsseldorf Appellate Court
12:30 Discussion
13:00 Lunch Break
14:30 Alessandra Quarta, Limits of Contract Theory in the Digital Market
15:00 Discussion
15:30 Tea Break
16:00 Martin Schmidt-Kessel, Curtailing private power – the stadium ban case of the Bundesverfassungsgericht and its consequences for digital markets
16:30 Discussion
17:00 Organisational issues
18:00 Closing remarks (Luca E. Perriello/Martin Schmidt-Kessel)

Organization: Prof. Martin Schmidt-Kessel / Pia Kraus

Further Information: ls-schmidt-kessel@uni-bayreuth.de